The first important step in the proposed garbage and trash cleanup program for Truckee was taken by the sanitary board this week when plans were announced for a modern incinerator to replace the present dump ground on Trout creek north of town. The latter site offers a serious fire hazard and is not accessible during winter months. The construction of the incinerator is a step in the right direction and the fact that it is being done, together with other proposed improvements at no increase to the taxpayers, reflects deserved credit upon members of the sanitary board.

On April 11 you will be given an opportunity of expressing appreciation for the splendid work accomplished by your fire district commissioners through the election to be held on that date, two of the old board being candidates for reelection. There can be no just criticism of the efforts put forth by Dr. Bernard and Frank Gaiennie in their capacity of commissioners. They have provided full cooperation in furnishing adequate fire protection here and at minimum cost have paved the way for drastic reductions in insurance rates, more than making up for the slight individual cost of the equipment and reorganized and more efficient department. And information indicates that this progressive program will be further aided by the addition of Mr. Pearce on the commission. These men have earned a large complimentary vote and without opposition should be given their just thanks with every possible vote.

AGED TAHOE MAN IS FOULY TREATED IN THUGS' HANDS

Unknown Assailant Sought By Officers Following Attack

$80 IN CASH TAKEN Neighbor Finds Victim After Night of Horror For Helpless Man

TAHOE CITY, Mar. 31.—Nick Flick, 87 year old resident of Carnelian Bay, who with his brother, Joe, three years his senior, settled in the Tahoe region more than 40 years ago was the victim of a brutal assault by an unknown assailant on Sunday night between 10 and 12 o'clock. The attacker used a pistol butt to inflict cuts and bruises on both the old man's hands and who gave him a blackened eye in the struggle.

The elderly man has been residing alone since his brother was removed several months ago to an Auburn hospital for treatment.

The unknown assailant gained entrance by smashing the window of the front door, opening it and unlocking the lock from the inside. The intruder approached the old man who was in bed, threatening to kill him if he did not hand over his money. When slow in responding the old man was struck with the gun and $80 dollars taken from his shirt pocket where he had it at the time.

While injured painfully, it is believed the wounds are not serious enough to prove fatal.

Constable Harry Johanson of Tahoe City was called to the scene to investigate at 10 a. m. Monday when called by C. W. Peterson, a neighbor attracted to the house upon noting the broken panel while en route to the post office for his mail. He found the old man in serious condition and badly frightened. The attack is believed to have been the work of someone familiar with the premises and habits of Flick.

The broken glass had been repaired and the old one destroyed before finger prints could be obtained. Information was extracted from Flick with difficulty, as he protested that he had no idea who his attacker could be. An investigation is being conducted after several clues were unearthed.

Flick was taken to the Auburn hospital for treatment.

NEW INCINERATOR TO BE ERECTED TO BURN DEBRIS

Sanitary Board Takes Steps To Better Local Trash Conditions

OTHER IMPROVEMENTS

No Additional Cost Attached To Work Proposed This Summer

In keeping with their policy to provide all improvements possible under the existing tax revenue, the members of the sanitary board, following a meeting Tuesday night, announced plans to construct a modern incinerator east of Truckee during the early summer. While the plan has been in the formative stage for several months, lack of sufficient money to finance the project hindered definite progress.

The incinerator, it was pointed out will go far in solving the current unsatisfactory method of garbage and trash removal in Truckee by providing an up to date disposal plant which, it is hoped by the board, will be made accessible during all seasons of the year.

The board, headed by President R. A. Tonini, also discussed more rigid enforcement of the garbage and trash collection ordinance and proposed to invest more power in the collector, who depends almost entirely upon the small charge for the removal for the work involved.

Several projects of lesser nature, including repairs and additions to the sewer system, addition of more trash cans and other matters pertaining to the sanitary district, were discussed.

The Lions Club's committee, named to cooperate with the board in the plan to make Truckee more presentable and sanitary had been invited to meet with the board. This committee is headed by E. L. Loynd.

Check Charge At Carson City Awaits One of Pair, Officer Says

In an effort to solve a number of local crimes, Deputy Sheriff N. F. Dolley this week was in Nevada City quizzing Herman Cercio and a man giving the name of Verne Martin, both former Truckee residents arrested this week in Grass Valley.

Cercio was arrested Sunday on a petty theft charge and Martin was captured Monday by Dolley who had gone to the county seat to question Cercio relative to a number of thieveries in Truckee during the past several months. Martin attempted to evade arrest, Dolley said, but after a chase and search through the wooded area of the eastern part of the county he was captured and lodged in jail.

Dolley said Martin is also accused on a bad check charge in Sparks.

Deputy Dolley reported this morning that Cercio had confessed and implicated Martin in the theft of copper and brass from the Southern Pacific here and theft of tools from Joe Mattos. He said he believed they were also guilty of other local thefts.

Both men have previous police records, Dolley said, Martin, whose true name, the officer said, is Vernon Reitzer, has been arrested several times on various charges ranging from petty theft to assault with a deadly weapon, and Cercio was held for investigation twice on statutory charges.

PERENNIAL PEDDLER

Poppies aren't all that spring brings to California. Spring also produces increasing numbers of that hardy perennial—the door-to-door peddler.

His well-flexed thumb will soon be punching Truckee's doorbells, and his trigger action foot will be swiftly planted against door jams as he prepares to display his assortment of gadgetry, nostrums and combination bottle-washer and curling iron specialty for $1.79.

According to government reports, where the transient solicitor nuisance is not stopped there is approximately $11 per capita taken yearly by this porch selling. Multiply that by Truckee's population, and you have the astonishingly high sum which flows into peddlers' pockets.

Like the glib side-show Barker, these itinerant sellers play upon human credulity which frequently seems all too willing to believe the peddler's suitcase contains better bargains than can be obtained in the local stores. A few decades ago, the wandering hawker's grab-bag may have contained items not obtainable at the local store. But this is 1938! The specialized stocks offered today by local merchants are rich in variety, fair in price, never lacking in bargains. And it is these enterprises whose payrolls, rent, taxes, operating expenses and all other payments, contribute to the well-being of the community, to the building and upkeep of our roads and schools, and shoulder a large part of increasing relief costs.

Remember these things next time that hardy perennial, the transient peddler, tries to take root on your front porch.

AS GOOD AS GOLD

When international treaties are being disregarded, foreign loans repudiated and defaults and bankruptcies shaking public faith in the promise of men, it is good to know that in America, the word of the average citizen still is backed by integrity.

Proof is revealed in current figures showing that though six billion dollars worth of radios, automobiles, furniture and similar necessary luxuries were bought by Mr. and Mrs. America last year, only about one in a hundred of the millions of charge accounts resulted in default.

When the depression crashed around our ears in 1929, two billion and a half dollars in installment debts alone were owed by families in the nation. Today, currently released figures indicate, that across the balance sheet shortly can be written: "Paid In Full."

To most of us, the picture of Mr. Average American worrying, planning, scrimping and saving through depression years, seeking to keep his credit, to acquit himself honorably and to merit the respect of his neighbor, can best be imagined, perhaps, by drawing the parallel with our own experience and multiplying it by a few millions.

Now, say the official reports from the national financial journals, Americans are not only pulling out of their individual sloughs of debt—they're getting their second wind and making ready to replenish their household and personal needs.

That is good news. And it is a proud record—that the word of the average citizen in this country still is as good as gold.

"... It is the duty of citizens to support their government and not the duty of the government to support its citizens."—The New York Times.

BORDER STATIONS AGAIN ATTACKED BY STATE GROUP

SAN FRANCISCO, Mar. 31.— Demand that California open its gates to visitors from other states was made by the board of directors of the California State Chamber of Commerce at its regular meeting in San Francisco last Friday.

Two resolutions calling for the doing away with the motor vehicle registration stations at the border and amending the law requiring out of state visitors to be registered were adopted. Both resolutions have been a matter of debate and discussion in the various councils of the state chamber all over the state for the past several months.

The board pointed out, however, that they do not refer to the agricultural quarantine stations at the border, only the motor vehicle registration stations.

Such action by California, the board pointed out, would lead the way for other states taking similar action. At the present time eleven states have motor registration laws, ten of them west of the Mississippi river.

Oppose Surtax

Following report of the taxation committee, the state chamber board of directors went on record again in opposition to the surtax on undistributed profits in its present form before congress. They also opposed the increase to 18 per cent of regular corporation tax, which has been suggested as a substitute for the undistributed profits tax. A nationwide campaign among state chambers of commerce was authorized.

Oppose Income Tax Repeal

The tax committee also opposed the suggested federal licensing bill of firms engaged in interstate commerce. They further went on record opposing the initiative measures to repeal the

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Anderson returned last week from a seven-day vacation divided between their children, Jack and Kathleen, students at the University of Nevada and the C. W. Athertons of Fallon.

Mrs. Stella Watson has the least envied job in the lake region these cold, blustery days. Beginning around 6:30 each morning, she sallies forth in her trusty Ford school bus to battle the elements and the trying conditions of Tahoe's narrow, snow-clogged roads (which while narrow and difficult of passage are still most welcome to local residents). Many motorists forget shovels and chains, although required by law in such weather, and must be helped if they are to be passed at all. Local residents had also better heed the warning of the state highway department which requires all cars be parked off highways except in cases of total disablement for the moment. Infraction of this law leaves the motorist without grounds for damage to his car should losses be sustained by collision with the snow plow or other equipment.

School attendance is being restricted by the difficulty of travel, an average of about 30 pupils in both schools being maintained in place of 60 or 70, the usual quota for this time of the year.

A decided tribute was paid Mrs. Myrtle Gallinger, universally beloved elementary teacher when little six year old Howard Carnell, born at Meeks Bay and now ready for school, refused to remain for classes on opening day unless he could be a member of Mrs. Gallinger's class. His teacher, who has known him since birth, deeply moved by his youthful devotion, dried his tears with the assurance he would be allowed to remain with her group. Mrs. Roy Mikkelsen of Auburn, is the temporary substitute teacher at the school.

Visitors at Tahoe recently included Miss Helen Meyer of Mills College, who enjoyed local skiing conditions on Sunday with a party of city friends. The young woman is Olympic fencing champion.

Charles Townsend, Henry Droste and Lou Ehret of Sacramento were also temporary guests at the lake.

Albert Henry, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Henry of Tahoe City, a student at California Polytechnic College at San Luis Obispo, will attend the aeronautical show in Los Angeles with his class on April 8, 9 and 10, arriving at Tahoe on the 11th to enjoy Easter vacation with his family. Henry placed third a week ago in the mile track event held at a Santa Barbara college field and plans further competition in this sport since the encouraging place his initial attempt won for him.

Mrs. Naomi Hursey and two small sons of Tahoe Pines are visiting the home of the youngsters' maternal grandparents on a Fallon ranch for several weeks.

H. L. Bradbury of San Leandro, accompanied by a party of friends, enjoyed the week end at the family home at Tahoe Park.

Mrs. Stella Watson drove Robert Watson, greatly improved in health, back to Folsom on Saturday. He plans to continue his prospecting for gold and enjoy the vista of green fields and spring sunshine for another 30 days or more.

Mr. and Mrs. Monett Hamilton of Tahoe Lodge drove their neighbors, Mrs. Gertrude Broach and Chris Nielsen to Reno on Saturday where the group attended the funeral for the late Jack Kirkley, former Reno police chief who died Wednesday. Mr. Kirkley was related to Mrs. Broach by marriage, being a brother of Joe Kirkley, husband of Mrs. Broach's daughter, Louise. The funeral, attended by hundreds of friends, was conducted by the Masonic lodge.

TAHOE SKI CLUB MAKING PLANS TO HOLD APRIL MEET

TAHOE CITY, Mar. 31.—Tahoe Ski Club's participation in the Auburn club's postponed A and B jumping contest at Cisco Sunday, attended by several hundred, unfortunately was negligible due to a streak of bad luck which overtook leading local performers.

The following skiers were present: Sig Ulland who, due to ankle injuries is not yet able to enter competition, Carl Bechdolt, Jr., just over a bad piece of flu which left him weak and shaky, who while able to make some beautiful jumps was not in best form; David Renner unable to perform because of recent head injuries and Walter Mandeville, new class B champion seriously ill with grippe at his Lake Forest home where his mother, Mrs. Skinner of Auburn is attending him.

Among Tahoeites who attended the meet were Ernest and Joe Pomin, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Worden and family, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Henry, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Anderson and children Jack and Kathleen, the former entering in the exhibition slalom and Carl Bechdolt, Sr., and Louis with burial in Mt. View cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Marshall who have wintered in Palm Springs, returned to their Tahoe home on Friday, reporting they were nearly smothered by a heat wave which hit the southern city before their departure. They will have plenty of opportunity to get their breath once more via Tahoe's frozen atmosphere. Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Carnell and family have occupied their home since their departure last fall.

Gene and Joe Re were hosts at a special Italian dinner at their home on the Truckee river on Wednesday night last. Guests attending included Mr. and Mrs. Leif Nielson and their daughter, Marie; Herbert Campbell, Charles Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Swanson. Joe Re who has been ill is now much improved.

TAHOE REGION NEWS

By Swanee

BUILDINGS DAMAGED BY STRONG WINDS IN TAHOE REGION

TAHOE CITY, Mar. 31.—The terrific windstorm which swept the Tahoe region on Friday night and Saturday caused no small amount of damage, a hasty checkup revealed.

At Jake Obexer's Standard Oil pier at Homewood, damage estimated at $500 was caused by rough waters when service pier and breakwater were seriously battered.

At the Henry Kaiser estate at Tall Pines, the miniature wooden light house which stands some 10 feet tall and three feet at the base lighting the entrance to the boat harbor, was blown down, a small amount of damage being inflicted on breakwaters. Entire repair costs would not exceed $50, according to Gerkin.

At a meeting held on Friday night at Tahoe Inn it was decided that the Tahoe Club would stage a ski meet during April to include only jumping events. Much would depend upon the snow conditions which, in turn, will be contingent upon weather conditions. It was agreed generally that warm spring weather would render the snow sticky and impracticable for slalom, down mountain or cross country races, while Olympia Hill could easily be groomed for jumping competition due to the heavy pack. April 10 was tentatively selected for the date, but inquiry disclosed that date allotted to the Placerville meet.

Snow and weather conditions permitting, a date will now be requested after Easter Sunday, April 17.

Following Tahoe's heavy storm of last week, it was discovered that the warming house in Ski Canyon had collapsed under the heavy snow. The cost of replacement is estimated at $1000 or more.

Reports of excessive damage to Tahoe Tavern during the height of the wind storm were denied by Henry Wehrman, caretaker. He declared a large tree was felled by the wind but only minor repair work was necessary to the roof where some of the shingles were torn off of the south wing. The tree struck the face of the building a glancing blow in its downward progress and did not crash through the roof. The interior of several rooms may have been cracked by the shaking up but as work of remodeling and refinishing the south wing is now in progress, Livermore.

Politically Speaking

By Jack Welter
United Press Staff Correspondent

SACRAMENTO, Mar. 31.—(UP)—A shift in political fortunes may find Governor Frank F. Merriam, the erstwhile advocate of economy in government, going before the people with a reelection appeal based on his record as a great humanitarian.

Several months ago no one dreamed Merriam would so much as consider the possibility of a liberalized platform, dedicated to the proposition that all appropriation requests must be answered.

Things looked fairly clear. A year ago the governor informed the legislature he was submitting an economy budget. His recommendations contemplated erasing of a deficit variously estimated at from 20 to 30 million dollars.

He envisioned a state governmental structure which by 1939 would be hitting a new high, a streamlined machine operating well within the framework of common sense expenditures. He foresaw a possible surplus of $21,000,000.

But the forces of nature and economic readjustments, also known as the "business recession," are forcing the governor to move into a different position.

SIERRA SUN
PHONE 161

Recently state department of finance officials said there likely would be no surplus but instead a very real and earnest deficit which might approach $18,000,000 at the biennium end in June, 1939.

"The situation was not improved, moreover, by the recent special legislative session which appropriated nearly $17,000,000 to meet unlooked for contingencies. These included unemployment relief, flood control and absorption of a portion of the old age pension costs now borne by the counties.

So the governor has had to tack abruptly. It seems a certainty the ground cannot now be made up, and the balanced budget argument apparently will not count for much.

The logical course for Merriam then, is to capitalize his weakness: he can say to the voters in all sincerity, that the disastrous floods and storms which ravaged nearly every section of the state presented grave questions of health and suffering.

The governor's opponents, meanwhile, have engaged in steady sniping at his claims to a balanced budget.

Herbert Iegg of Los Angeles, a Democratic candidate, and Lt. Gov. George J. Hatfield have charged Merriam with maintaining a favorable state revenue situation at the expense of community tax rolls.

Hatfield, who ignored party lines in his opening bid for the governorship declared the state burden has risen to all time high of $220,000,000. The lieutenant governor termed this "extortionate beyond all justification."

A vital factor in planning the ultimate Merriam strategy doubtless is the identity of the governor's opponent, assuming he will emerge victorious from the primary.

Should Culbert Olson, liberal Los Angeles state senator, face the governor from the Democratic side the generalissimo of the Merriam camp may decide that a little attention could be paid to Olson's record as chairman of the EPIC party under the guidance of Upton Sinclair.

How the governor's new robes will fit is a question that cannot now be answered. But he has been known

Real Estate Group To Oppose Repeal Of California's Sales Tax

SACRAMENTO, Mar. 31.—(UP)—Members of the California Real Estate Association have recorded their opposition to repeal of the three per cent sales tax, officials announced. The group also voted against establishment of a one house legislature.

Resolutions have been adopted opposing further tax exemptions and all initiative measures intended to amend or repeal any part of the existing state revenue plan.

The movement to repeal the sales tax was attacked as an effort to place a modified single tax in operation.

CALIFORNIA PARTICIPATES IN FLOOD CONTROL PLAN

SACRAMENTO, Mar. 31.—(UP)—Participation of California in the federal government's nationwide flood control investigation was assured through allocation by Governor Frank F. Merriam of $50,000 from the state emergency fund for that purpose.

Recommended by the state planning board, the appropriation will be made immediately upon receipt of approval of the program from the war department and department of agriculture at Washington.

to move in new directions before, and with alacrity.

Assemblyman Gordon Garland of Woodlake, convinced that the practice of paying legislators a small salary is a costly one because it encourages inefficiency, is trying to do something about it.

Should he be returned to either house next year, the amiable rancher will return with a bill proposing a minimum salary of $3,600 for the assemblymen and senators. Both currently receive $1200 yearly.

Garland has no personal axe to grind. He is in comfortable circumstances and his public service in one term has meant expenditures from his own funds in excess of the state's remuneration.

RURAL FIRE GROUP DOING GOOD WORK THROUGH STATE

SACRAMENTO, Mar. 31.—(UP)—Through the efforts of the Rural Fire Protection committee in the last nine years, California has developed the best rural fire fighting service in the United States, the State Department of Natural Resources reported.

Development of this defense system of the state's perishable resources followed the disastrous fire of 1929, when vast areas of grain, brush and range were ravaged.

After the losses tabulated, Governor C. C. Young called a conference of state officials. They formulated what has become known as "the California plan."

Charged with protection of 30,000,000 acres of California's forests watersheds, grain and range lands the state rangers formerly had only four trucks and volunteer crews for assistance.

Today the rural fire fighting forces number 264 vehicles and crews, including 143 modern fire trucks especially equipped to combat fires in the countryside. Thirty-three of the state's 58 counties are cooperating under the "California plan."

Early difficulties in obtaining the proper equipment for rural fire protection has been overcome. Heavy truck pumps and chemical tank outfits were found to be unsuitable for country use. Light trucks able to traverse any type of road or back woods trail were found to be the most practicable.

As a general pattern for construction of Rural Fire Protection equipment, the ten following features are recommended:

Dependability, ample power, limited weight, low center of gravity, ample clearance, simplicity, safety, essential hand equipment, controls and equipment conveniently arranged and reasonable cost.

Several hundred miles of truck trails and telephone lines have recently been constructed, and fulltime standby crews have been organized at all stations. It is no longer necessary to lose time in recruiting the fire fighters while conflagrations get a head start.

In off-season months the standby crews are employed in other forestry projects.

New developments in rural fire protection, it is expected, will be the use of two-way, short wave radio communication and airplanes dispatched to spot fires.

TRAFFIC DEATHS IN 1938 SHOW DROP FOR TWO MONTHS

SACRAMENTO, Mar. 31.—(UP)—If California motorists maintain the record established during the first two months of 1938, the state's traffic safety record for the year will be considerably improved over the 1937 showing, records of the state motor vehicle department revealed.

January and February this year showed 99 fewer deaths than the corresponding period last year.

The 1938 records show 220 deaths in January, 195 in February, while last year's January total was 305, for February 209.

The same per cent of decline, over the 12 month period, would bring California's traffic fatality toll under 2,000. In 1937 there were 3,139 persons killed.

VETERAN OF ESPEE CELEBRATES HALF CENTURY IN SERVICE

Fifty years ago this month, a husky youth left a farm near Colfax, California, to go to work on the railroad section gang.

Today, as vice president of the Southern Pacific Company, in charge of operations, he oversees one of the greatest railroad empires in the United States.

He is Joseph H. Dyer, who at the age of 66 celebrated a half century of service with the Southern Pacific by personally directing the army of workmen engaged in restoring the company's flood damaged lines in southern California.

The 50 years which took "Joe" Dyer to the top by sheer push instead of "pull", has not changed the man. He is still a railroader to the very core of his bulky frame, and he thinks first in terms of getting a job well done. That's why, instead of cutting a cake, he and 1000 men were cutting their way through the southern California storm debris on his birthday, March 13.

Result: Southern Pacific's Coast line was opened in two days; the line east, badly hit, was repaired in five days, and service on the San Joaquin line, where 10 bridges washed away, was restored in 12 days.

Today it is the boast of his associates (Dyer doesn't boast) that he could drive a spike with the youngest of his employees. And it looks as though he will be able to do so for many years to come.

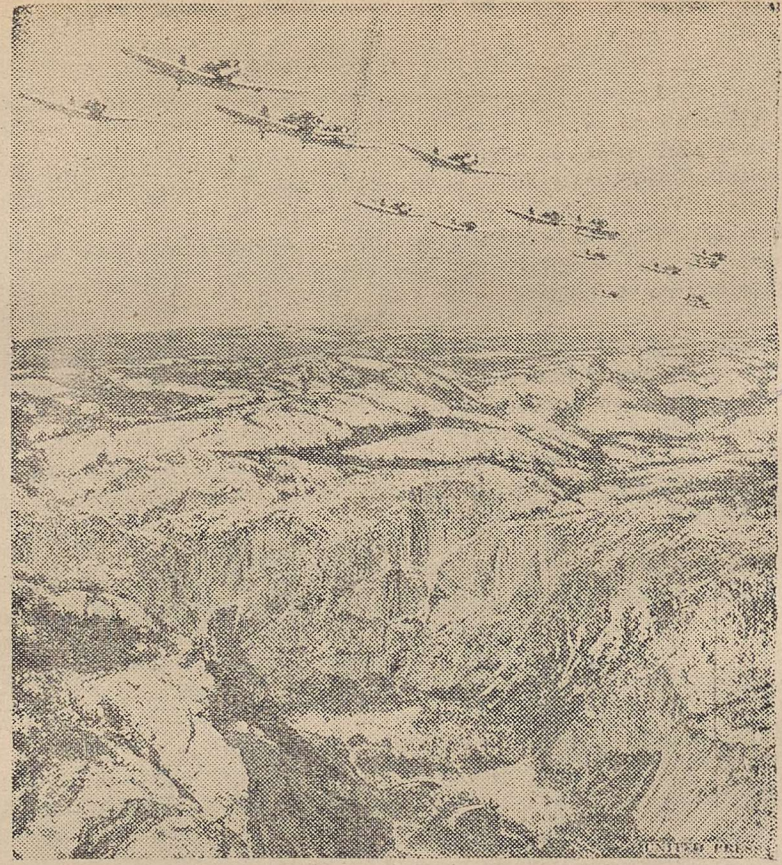

Inmates of Oakland's School For Adult Blind Enjoy Playing Baseball

SACRAMENTO, Mar. 31.—(UP)—Inmates of the state home for the adult blind at Oakland, despite the handicap of loss of sight, play a game similar to baseball, according to Harry Lutgens, director of institutions.

The game, Lutgens said, is played on a standard soft-ball diamond, and the only person with sight on the field is the umpire. A regulation soft ball with a bell inside is used.

Instead of pitching the ball, it is rolled along the ground and the batter judges its approach by the tinkle of the bell. Batters have become proficient in hitting the ball, using a

SEAWELL HONORED AT MEETING OF ROSEVILLE LIONS CLUB LAST WEEK

ROSEVILLE, Mar. 31.—More than 100 friends, members of the Roseville, Colfax, Newcastle and Auburn Lions clubs, met at the Masonic hall in Roseville last Wednesday evening to honor Senator Jerry Seawell, who is a candidate for lieutenant governor.

The affair was under the sponsorship of the Roseville Lions Club of which Seawell is a member, and represented their regular meeting with L. DeWitt Sparks, president of the club, presiding.

Assemblyman George P. Miller of Alameda was the speaker of the evening, paying tribute to Seawell as well as giving an interesting talk on the mining exhibits which will be one of the features of the coming San Francisco fair.

"Until the employer has fulfilled this subjectivity requirement, he should not make deductions from his workers' pay checks. However, the employer will be responsible for payment of the employers contribution from January 1 on, in event he becomes subject during the year 1938."

Details of Unemployed Insurance Fund Given By State Commissioner

SACRAMENTO, Mar. 31.—In answering questions submitted by thousands of California employers as to whether they are subject to provisions of the Unemployment Reserves Act, the state department of employment has found many who are not actually subject for 1938 but who, in anticipating that they will be subject, are making deductions from their workers paychecks.

James L. Matthews, chairman of the California Unemployment Reserves Commission, announced today the following requirements of the act: "If a California employer hired four or more persons during the year 1937 both he and his employees are subject to pay contributions to the fund during 1938.

"In event an employer did not hire four or more persons during the year 1937, he will not become subject
